SHORT CIRCUIT HITS FESTIVAL MONDAY NIGHT

The Gettysburg Fire Department Monday evening started its week-long festival at Recreation Park in connection with its observance of the 96th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

A short-circuited transformer put much of the festival area in darkness shortly after 10 o'clock, and after putting off the fireworks the firemen bade the several thousand present "good night" and invited them to return this evening.

General Chairman Robert Hartman said a new transformer will be installed today in order to provide illumination for this evening's events.

Fireworks Chairman C. William Zhea "promised a treat" tonight. Spectacular as Monday night's fireworks display was, Zhea said tonight's pyrotechnics will be even more colorful. He added that he is anxious to see especially one of the fireworks on tonight's list. On the box it is listed as a simulated atomic bomb and according to the label will produce a ball of fire and the familiar mushroom cloud.

GHS Band Concert

The Gettysburg High School band will present a concert tonight. All members of the Junior and Senior High School bands are expected to take part under the direction of Conductor Robert G. Zeigler. There were numerous comments Monday night on the new dining hall recently constructed at the park, and on the increased number of rides and activities at the festival. In addition to the ferris wheel, merry-go-round, and numerous rides for youngsters, new features this year include an "airplane" ride in which the passengers control the movement of the "plane," and a new "swing" ride.

PLAN TO HONOR 1400 REGULARS ON WEDNESDAY

The 1,400 men of the regular army who were casualties here in 1863, will be honored at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening during the 96th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. The memorial service will be held at the U. S. Regulars Monument, between the High Water Mark and Pennsylvania Monument on Hancock Ave. The observance also marks the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the marker in 1909.

Col. Robert M. Beechiner, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College, will give a brief talk on the activities of the 42 Regular Army units which participated in the battle here including cavalry, artillery, infantry and an engineer unit.

Weaver To Be Emcee

The artillery units in particular have been commended by historians for their work at Gettysburg under General Henry J. Hunt.

William G. Weaver will be master of ceremonies. M/Sgt. Raymond Strohm will place a wreath at the marker honoring the soldiers who died here. Sgt. Strohm, a veteran of more than 30 years service in the Regular Army, served with the 7th and 12th Regiments. Both of those regiments were among the units of Regular Army troops who fought at Gettysburg.

The VFW firing squad will present the salute.

Fifty years ago the statue was dedicated by President Taft at a program attended by more than 30,000. The dedication of the main Regulars' Monument also marked the dedication of 42 smaller markers placed on the field to mark the sites on which the various units fought.

COUNTY GIVEN BIG TAX CHECK

Adams County today received a check for $49,277.20 from the state representing its share of the gasoline tax during the first six months of the taxing year.

The amount is $4,613.76 more than the $44,633.44 received at the end of June a year ago.

Last year the county received $91,730.10 from the liquid fuels tax.

With the first six-month check being $4,600 higher than last year's it is not unlikely that this year may mark the first time the county has received more than $100,000 from its share of the gasoline tax.

The money is used for the construction and repair of bridges under county control, for highway change damages and as "county aid" to the various townships and boroughs for street and highway work. Normally the amount is divided about 60-40 between the county and other municipal governments.

JOHN M'PHAIL INSTALLED BY ROTARY CLUB

Attorney John A. MacPhail was installed Monday evening as the new president of the Gettysburg Rotary Club at its meeting in the YWCA.

He succeeds David Blocher, who was presented with his past president's pin by another past president, John Hostetter.

Blocher reported to the club on its activities during the last year and expressed his appreciation to the members of the organization for their support during the year.

Attorney MacPhail reported briefly on the Rotary International convention which he attended recently and told the members: "Until you have attended an international convention you cannot have a true appreciation of what Rotary really is. There were 14,000 delegates in New York from more than 70 countries. You begin to feel that Rotary is not confined to the four walls of your own 7 meeting room when you meet such groups as an Italian Rotary club which chartered a plane and its entire membership flew to the convention. When you meet 50 or 60 people from a South American country, people from India, Germany, England, and even countries that you never heard of, and talk to them and find out the Rotary activities they are carrying on, it makes you feel better for the world's future. Then when you attend sessions at which many of the world's top people, people who are a position to know, speak and express much optimism for the future of the world you begin to revise many of your own ideas."

Vice President William Lentz announced that William Putsch, the manager of the Tote Pole theater will be the speaker at next Monday's meeting.

Julius Swopel led group singing, accompanied at the piano by Dr. Frederick Shaffer.

SAYS MAN WILL REACH MOON 'IN OUR LIFETIME'

Predicting that "man will be on the moon within our lifetime," Major William N. Storms, member of the Gettysburg College Air ROTC staff, told members of the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening that "man's natural curiosity will carry him forward and over the current obstacles to exploration of our solar system and the universe."

Major Storms, who wears the Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters, supplemented his talk at the Lions' dinner meeting at the Shetter House with a film by the Air Force titled "Reaching for Space."

He reviewed progress in air flight and spoke of the current steps being taken toward the exploration of space. He estimated that within two or three years man will orbit the earth in a capsule and return with the successful execution of Project Mercury. Manned aircraft flight in space will come next with lunar vehicles and interplanetary travel to follow.

To Help Blind Boy

He discussed the problems that have to be solved before space travel can come that involve atmosphere and man's need for carrying an oxygen supply or some means of securing oxygen after leaving the earth's atmosphere. He pointed out man must be protected from temperature extremes and from dangerous radiation belts that surround the earth. There are psychological problems, weightlessness, food and water supplies, the problems of human wastes and others that are being attacked and the speaker predicted their solution.

Vice President David Blocher presided at the meeting with 50 Lions present. President John C. Stahl and other delegates from the local club are attending the international Lions' convention in New York City.

START HARVEST OF CHERRY CROP HERE MONDAY

Timed with the beginning of Adams County's red tart cherry harvest, the opening of The C. H. Musselman Company's cherry processing season at the Biglerville plant is scheduled for July 6. The operation will expand into two shifts early in the week providing seasonal employment for several hundred local workers in addition to the thousands employed for the harvest in county orchards.

Crop prospects, locally, so far as total tonnage is concerned remain unchanged from earlier predictions but growers and processors are gravely concerned over quality as a result of the severe wind storms of several weeks ago. Many growers are planning to sort their fruit in the orchard before delivery to the plant in an effort to improve the grade.

Decrease In Prospects

Only Pennsylvania of the five Great Lakes Cherry producing states shows a decrease in the crop prospects, according to USDA, with a prediction of 10,300 tons compared to 11,200 tons in 1958. Michigan, the number one cherry state in the nation, shows the sharpest increase with 84,000 tons indicated against 49,500 tons in 1958, a rise of about 70 per cent. Nationally the crop is expected to run 33 per cent above last year.

No price has been announced by the Musselman Company, but "growers are assured of purchases on the usual cash basis. This year." (Continued On Page 3)

MONDAY WAS HOTTEST AT 98 DEGREES

Temperatures at The Gettysburg Times weather station soared Monday afternoon to a new high for the year of 98 degrees, making it the hottest day here since mid-July of 1957, and bringing on the hottest June night in two years.

Monday was the eighth day this month with temperatures of 90 or above.

Monday night's low was 75 degrees, the hottest night here since 1957.

The end-of-the-month heat wave sent June's average temperatures above normal but far short of setting any records. The month ending today was much hotter than last June but not as hot as June of 1957.

Short On Rain

There have been hotter nights in Gettysburg than Monday night but not very often. There haven't been any June nights that hot since 1945. But June nights have been as hot as 77 and 78 degrees in the past.

June was hotter than normal and four-tenths of an inch short of normal rainfall. The seven days that saw measurable amounts of rainfall brought the month's total to 3.36 inches. Normal for June is 3.76 inches.

The June shortage made 1959 2.63 inches short on rain for its first six months. May also was short on rain. The six-month accumulation is 17.66 inches. Normal is about 20½ inches for the first six months.

Chilly Week Cut Averages

LOCAL PASTOR IS ATTENDING CONVOCAATION

Pastor Merton Henry of the Gettysburg Seventh-day Adventist Church, 5th and Hanover Sts., left Sunday for pre-conference duties in connection with the church's 49th annual eastern state convocation and camp meeting which convenes at Westcosville, near Allentown, on Thursday.

He will join a staff of 50 ministers, administrators and educational leaders who will direct and insure the physical and spiritual preparation for the ten-day sessions. Directing the pre-conference sessions will be T. Edgar Unruh, eastern state president for the Adventists, who announced that the sessions are expected to draw upwards of 2,500 from all sections of the state and neighboring areas.

Pastor Henry will join preachers representing the 60 churches in the Eastern Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. "These pre-conference sessions will include studies on methods of improving ministerial efficiency, discussions on ways of bringing Christ more effectively to the masses, and prayer sessions in behalf of individual problems and a focus on the national and international problems of today," declared state director Unruh.

Tent, Trailer City
A ten and trailer city will augment the permanent dwellings now located on the church's camp meeting site. Those ten-day sessions will be a part of the more than 50 similar meetings the Seventh-day Adventists have scheduled between June and August throughout the United States. Though a record crowd of 2,500 is expected at these sessions they will be dwarfed by assemblies of 15,000 in such areas as Michigan and Southern California.

The pre-conference sessions will precede the ten-day session which will open Thursday and close Saturday, July 12.

WEDS PAIR ON ANNIVERSARY

Hazel Jane Rice, Chambersburg, and Merlie Jacob Grable, Thurmont R. 2, were married Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in a civil ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

It was also the 30th wedding anniversary of Justice and Mrs. Snyder. They were married June 27, 1929, in the chapel at Valley Forge. The late Rev. Dr. Burke performed the ceremony.

Justice Snyder said that he performs comparatively few wedding ceremonies, possibly 50 in the past 20 years. Recalling his own wedding, Snyder said that he does not remember the pastor's first name but that he does remember a bit of advice Dr. Burke gave him and Mrs. Snyder after the ceremony.

He wished them happiness, then suggested that they should "have a little zoo in your home. Not a zoo with dogs or cats or monkeys but with bear and forbear."

"That's been pretty good advice," Snyder said, "and it is something that I've found useful in advising others who come into this office with marital troubles."

PROBE BLAST WHERE 19 DIED

MELDRIM, Ga. (AP) — A full-scale investigation is under way to determine what caused Sunday's disastrous train wreck.

The death toll from butane flames reached 19 Monday night. Three persons are still in serious condition.

The disaster, one of Georgia's worst, occurred about 3:30 p.m. Sunday at a recreation area on the Ogeechee River 18 miles north-west of Savannah.

Eyewitnesses generally agreed that several cars derailed, rupturing a tank car filled with butane gas. The gas floated downward over the recreation area like a ground fog, then ignited with a tremendous roar.

Seaboard Air Line Railroad officials said they found no track or car condition that might have caused the wreck.

Resume Steel Talks Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Contract negotiations in the basic steel industry resume Wednesday after a recess since an extraordinary session on Sunday.

Four-man bargaining teams representing the 12 largest steel companies and the United Steelworkers of America have agreed to meet on a "stepped-up basis" of morning and afternoon sessions.

Contracts expire at midnight tonight. But the union has postponed a strike deadline until midnight July 14.

Intervention Saturday by President Eisenhower paved the way for the postponement.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits. The industry is demanding a wage freeze. Wages now average $3.10 an hour.

SOME RELIEF IS FORECAST BY WEDNESDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Forecasters promised slight relief today from a sizzling heat wave that has brought some of the hottest temperatures of the season to Pennsylvania.

The Weather Bureau said that a cold front from western Ohio will spread cooler air over the entire state but temperatures will be only 5-10 degrees below Monday's 90-plus recordings.

Meanwhile, the uncomfortable weather continues to reflect in drownings as Pennsylvanians seek refuge in swimming spots.

Three boys drowned Monday in the wake of eight drownings over the weekend.

Water Warning
The thermometer hit 97 degrees in Philadelphia and Allentown while Scranton, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Avoca reported highs of 96, Pittsburgh 92 and Brookville 90.

Many factories and offices sent their employees home early.

Philadelphia Water Commissioner Samuel S. Baxter issued an emergency warning. Persons seeking relief from the heat turned on so many fire hydrants that the water pressure dropped dangerously low in some sections of the city.

Monday's drowning victims were Carl R. Graybill, 15, of Martinsburg; Barry Acker, 8, of Five Points, Reading R. D. 4; and Edward Jenkins, 16, of New Castle.

Drowns On Outing
Graybill drowned in Linda Lake near Quakertown in Bucks County. He was on a church camp outing with a group of 80 teenagers. His body was found by a lifeguard in six feet of water. The teenagers had been swimming, but then took time out for hot dogs and soda. Graybill apparently went back to the lake unobserved.

The Acker boy, who had told an older companion that he was able to swim, was found in 12 feet of water in the Schuylkill River near Reading. His companion, Kenneth Spatz, 20, said the boy went into the river a short distance from him and was "carried down."

The Jenkins youth had been swimming in the Shenango River at Nassau Bridge near New Castle.

RECOMMENDS PRE-HARVEST CHERRY SPRAY

A pre-harvest spray is recommended in the seventh spray cherry spray letter sent county growers by Frank S. Zettle, county farm agent, "Brown rot," Zettle points out, "will be a severe problem this season as a result of the wind bruising of mid-June Brown rot on injured fruits will build up a spore load which will make control difficult. Leaf spot is present but not a severe problem in most orchards."

Zettle recommends application of the spray 12 to 14 days after the last application. Captain, he advises, may be applied to and during harvest as it has a tolerance of 100 parts per million.

Ferbam-sulfur is not legal closer than seven days to picking, he cautions.

Use of either of these formulas is recommended, amounts being per 100 gallons of water:

Captain Preferred
Captain 50 per cent WP, 2 pounds dilute, 6 pounds concentrate, or ferbam 76 per cent WP, 1½ pounds dilute, 3 pounds concentrate, and sulfur 70 per cent paste, 5 pounds dilute, 15 pounds concentrate.

The captain spray is to be preferred to the ferbam-sulfur, Zettle says.

On that part of the orchard where the fruit has not been harvested 10 days after the pre-harvest application or where brown rot is building up rapidly, Zettle recommends repetition of the captain spray.

The letter was prepared in consultation with C. F. Taylor, extension plant pathologist.

FIREMEN TURN OFF HYDRANTS

NEW YORK (AP) — Violence flared in Manhattan and the Bronx Monday night after firemen turned off hydrants.

The hydrants were turned on by youths, a common practice in New York in hot weather. Monday's 96-degree temperature was only one degree away from a record for the date.

In the Bronx, a lighted bottle of gasoline was tossed from a rooftop into a group sitting on a front stoop.

The victims told police they thought the fire bomb was tossed by youths in retaliation for the residents' calling police after a hydrant was turned on. A 72-year-old woman, Louise Blaskewicz, was hospitalized with burns. Several others were treated for burns and sent home.

In Manhattan, two firemen were attacked by a gang of 25 youths when the firemen tried to turn off a hydrant.

One fireman was struck on the head with a garbage pail, and the other was stabbed in the left arm. The firemen who were struck on the head was hospitalized and the other treated and sent home.

The Houston sophomore, celebrating his 20th birthday, won the 62nd annual tournament Saturday by defeating San Jose State's Jack Lucetti 7 and 6 in the 36-hole finals.

Johansson, who won the heavyweight crown from Floyd Patterson in New York Friday, is to spend a few days at the home of Gustav Von Reis, a Detroit businessman and personal friend.

Watchdog Group Action Deferred

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Monday night deferred action on legislation which would establish a legislative committee to watch over administration spending.

Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic leader, said the delay was caused by a Senate amendment postponing the effective date of the bill until after the Legislature adjourns.

He said it was uncertain whether this applies to the current session or to all future sessions.

10 BIG DAYS IN OFFING FOR JUNIOR LOOP

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League pennant race, so far a scramble of winning streaks and slumps, gets rolling tonight on what could be 10 telling days for the five contenders — Cleveland, Chicago, Baltimore, Detroit and New York.

In those 10 playing days, sandwiching the break for the All-Star game at Pittsburgh a week from today, two of the three western wonders will face each other every day.

Cleveland, first a game over Chicago, plays four games with the White Sox in that span and six against Detroit. The Tigers, four games behind and tied for fourth with New York after a 10-inning, 10-3 loss to Kansas City in the only AL game scheduled Monday have a half-dozen games with the White Sox.

A's May Decide
That gives either of the three — the Indians, White Sox or Tigers — a chance to break away, but a stand-off is more likely. And a stand-off would give Baltimore and New York a chance to take charge.

The Orioles, third, 2½ games back, and Yankees play each other only three times in the 10-day period. Baltimore splits a dozen games between Washington and Boston, while the Yankees have 10 with the Senators and Red Sox. A stand-off among the Indians, White Sox and Tigers would make Kansas City the tie-breaker, and the seventh place A's could snarl things but good.

8 Runs in Inning
They jumped from behind for a 2-2 tie on Kent Hadley's ninth-inning home run at Detroit Monday then turned another batch of Tigers bobbles into a record-tying, eight-run 10th. The Tigers now have lost nine of their last 14 games, and while dropping three of their last five, 16 of the 30 runs against them have been unearned.

The A's eight runs tied the AL record for 10th inning scoring. The Tigers set the mark against Washington in 1943, and Cleveland matched it against Philadelphia 10 years later.

temperatures here did not go above the 70-degree mark and on the former date the high was 68 degrees. The low for the month was 49 degrees on June 18.

The average daily high reading was 83.4 degrees and the average low reading was 60.8 degrees, making the month's average temperature 72.1 degrees. Normal is 70.4 degrees. Last June the average was 67 degrees and in June of 1957 it was 73.7 degrees.

Thundershowers occurred a number of times during the month and probably the top weather phenomenon of the month was the hailstorm in Gettysburg the afternoon of June 5 when hailstones the size of mothballs fell for nearly 15 minutes.

The actor, Wayne Preston, said: "I don't know anything about it."

Preston and attorney Arthur Crowley clashed Sunday night at a party in the home of Lance Reventlow, son of dime-store heir-ess Barbara Hutton.

"We decided to settle it later," Crowley said. "The time was set for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday."

Crowley is 34 and weighs 170 pounds. Preston, 28, weighs 185.

Reventlow's frequent date, actress Jill St. John, said, "Preston wasn't invited. He had a chip on his shoulder all evening. He finally was asked to leave but did not go."

JOE CODORI DESIGNS DEBUT

The work of Joseph Codori, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, York St., in connection with a fashionable event at Philadelphia is mentioned in Sunday's Philadelphia papers in stories dealing with the presentation of Virginia M. Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Gordon, of Merion, to society at a "debut" dance in the Hotel Barclay ballroom.

The Philadelphia Bulletin said, "Former Philadelphia, Joe Codori, a graduate of the Philadelphia Museum College of Art, who recently designed the costumes for 'On The Town' starring Pat Carroll and Harold Lang in New York's Carnegie Hall Playhouse, came from Manhattan to supervise the decor to blend with Mrs. Gordon's and Virginia's gowns, which he also designed."

"The scene was a classically formal-Italian garden. The debutante and her mother received in a court effect in the foyer of the ballroom where turquoise and white flowers flanked five foot high fountains.

Describes Gowns

"Virginia wore fluorescent white silk peau d'ange, the strapless bodice in a pleated fan effect centered with a large rose of the material. A sash of ice blue shantung taffeta fell in long streamers in the back. . . . Mrs. Gordon's sheath dress of mint green shantung featured a contour belt of self fabric. The bodice was crisscrossed to form a petal effect. The walls of the ballroom were covered with silk panels of mint green and turquoise, topped with valances of white wicker and bamboo over lilac silk. Six-foot-tall mint green wicker topiary trees encrusted with opalescent grapes and orchids and flashing brightly flanked the windows. The wall scenes were of white wicker lined with lilac silk. Fountains banked with white and turquoise flowers and green foliage also played in the four corners of the ballroom while the stage on which Sylvan Herman and his orchestra held forth was backed with mint green and turquoise silk panels framed with white wicker and lilac silk."

more so than ever, the price will be largely dictated by the area with the greatest tonnage," said a Musselman spokesman. "With the shrinkage of distances due to modern transportation facilities, competition between all cherry producing areas on the finished products, both frozen and hot pack, has become increasingly keen."

Operations at the company's Inwood, W. Va., plant were started on June 26. The West Virginia crop is unusually light and all cherries are being diverted into a frozen pack. The frozen fruit, packed in 30 lb. tins, will ultimately be used for the manufacture of cherry pie filling, one of an assortment of ready-to-serve fillings produced at the Biglerville plant.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local News Happenings: Martin Winter has sold two Hanover street lots to Peter Sachs, and two lots on York street to C. A. Sprengle.

Charles Little is repainting his house on Chambersburg street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller celebrated their twelfth wedding anniversary at their home on Baltimore street on Tuesday.

A large number of the Hotel Men's Association of Pennsylvania, now in session at York, spent today here, coming in automobiles. They stopped at the Hotel Gettysburg.

New Street Being Opened: The building up of the East end of town has made a cross street from Hanover street to York street necessary for the public convenience. At present there is a distance of almost 2,000 feet between the last cross street and the borough limits and no cross road for miles beyond the borough limits.

Martin Winter has started the grading of a 50 foot street from Hanover to York street to Western Maryland Railroad. The first section will be finished at once and the section to the railroad later. This street will be in length 950 feet and will cost for land, filling, grading, sidewalks, alleys in rear, trees and draining not less than $1,000, but of this cost the borough will not be asked to pay any portion. This new street will be called Fourth Street.

Local News Happenings: Maurice Weaver and Maurice Bender are in Baltimore today making arrangements for entering the Medical Department of Johns Hopkins University in the fall.

Seventy-seven Gettysburg people went to Baltimore on the excursion this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schriver returned on Wednesday evening from their wedding tour.

Several hundred members of the Retail Coal Merchants Association of Pennsylvania spent today on the battlefield.

While Sparks' circus was going on inside the tent on Wednesday afternoon a number of the Regulars were on the outside putting their horses through stunts and having a little circus of their own.

Some one remarked at the Circus on Wednesday that the heat was in tents.

Mad Dog Killed By Irish Tom: "Irish Tom" distinguished himself early Monday morning by killing, with one blow of his heavy cane, a large mad dog which was causing consternation among the residents of North Stratton street.

Tom Kelly, the big Irishman who claims Harrisburg as his home but Gettysburg as his principal place of residence, happened along the street about half past six Monday morning when he noticed a large white dog chasing a little girl around the new house of George Stallsmith near the corner of Stratton and Water streets. A woman called to the big Irishman that the dog was mad and he immediately went after the canine with his walkingstick. A mighty blow from the metal head of the stick finished the dog's existence in this world.

That the dog was suffering from rabies there seems to be little doubt. The animal was frothing at the mouth and showing all symptoms of hydrophobia.

Mad Dog Hero Lands In Jail: "Irish Tom" could not stand prosperity on Monday night and a grand celebration of his heroic deed in killing a mad dog early in the day had to be enjoyed by the big man.

Tom got paid for killing the animal and early in the day obtained some other money by a little deal. With about sixty cents in his pocket he sallied forth in the evening to conquer the world. Several "friends" were met and before ten o'clock the Irishman was in a rather sad state of collapse. He kept on getting worse.

Today's Talk

SCENERY

Scenery is God's most lavish creation. It has inspired man for centuries. It is everywhere. One of my favorite forms of scenery is to be noted in our world's magnificent cathedrals, and many of our beautiful churches.

Thoreau loved that little world of scenery all about Walden Pond. I like this thought by William James. He said: "I have often been surprised to find what a predominant part in my own spiritual experience it has played, and how it stands out as almost the only thing the memory of which I should like to carry over with me beyond the veil, unamended and unaltered."

I shall never forget my visit to the great redwoods of California, and to the Rocky Mountains. I can understand John Muir's love of that country and the many glaciers. He wandered by foot over miles of dramatic territory and literally became a part of that great country. All Americans should visit it before they try to unravel the problems of Europe, and the rest of the world.

I love the music of the forest, and on quiet days, when you catch the voices of the wild, softly on their way to worlds unknown. Here is another beautiful line by James: "Today everything is a-dripping, the earth has a moving smell, and the sky is full of spots of felting blue."

Nature is the great Friend. Her very smile is medicine to the soul. She has her secrets but they need searching and spiritual appreciation!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Eagerness" Protected, 1959, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

JUNE'S A FRIEND

June, the month of brides and roses,

Freckled cheeks and sunburned noses,

Feet turned out of shoes and stockings,

Doors no longer set for knocking;

Windows wide to catch the breezes,

Sky that coaxes you and teases

You to urn from useful working

And devote yourself to shirking.

Now prepares her sparkling toddy

And pours drink for everybody.

All in brotherhood and union,

Come to June and take communion;

None there lives but from her treasure

Takes of joy a heaping measure.

He would be a dull and dumb thing

Who from June did not get something.

Big and little, great and lowly,

Take from her some charm that's holy;

In her way of generous giving

June is friend to all that's living.

Protected, 1959, by The George Matthews Adams Service until about midnight when Constable Wilson arrived on the scene and placed him under arrest.

The big Irishman was too big and unwieldy to handle however and Mr. Wilson was at a loss as to how to get his prisoner to the village bastille. Officer O'Riley happened along about this time but the combined efforts of the two men could not carry the dead weight of the man to the place of his night's lodging.

John Linn and Tyson Tipton were deputized to help in the arrest and matters were looking brighter for the officers when some one spied the Hotel Gettysburg baggage cart.

John Heagy, hostler at the hotel, was placed in service and Tom was literally hauled to jail. It was thought best to put the man in the county prison instead of the local lock up and Sheriff Fisel had him for a lodger. Today Tom is back to his usual self.

A charge of vagrancy and resisting an officer will likely be preferred in order that he may cause no further trouble.

JOHANSSON IS BOOTED FROM OLYMPIC RING

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The night of Aug. 2, 1952, at the Olympic Games at Helsinki, Finland, was a glorious one for Uncle Sam.

It was the night five of his nephews won Olympic boxing championships — the first boxing gold medals for the U.S. in 20 years — and rolled ahead of the Soviet Union in the unofficial team scoring of the games.

It was the night a 17-year-old Negro from Brooklyn named Floyd Patterson won the 165-pound crown by knocking out Vasile Tita of Romania with one uppercut in 20 seconds.

Disgrace For Ingemar

It also was a night of humiliation and disgrace for Ingemar Johansson.

Then 19, Johansson was disqualified after the second round of his heavyweight final with giant Ed Sanders for "not trying."

There were 10,000 fans, mostly Scandinavians and many of them Swedes, at the finals.

When the bell sounded, Sanders lumbered towards Johansson. Ingemar retreated. Sanders kept after him, poking with his left at the elusive target. Soon fans started whistling, Europe's equivalent of the boo.

Cautious Johansson

The referee cautioned Johansson twice and officially warned him (that takes away points) three times, before giving him the heave-ho at the end of the second round. The piercing din of whistling was ear-splitting.

Johansson wiped out the bitter memory and became his country's sports idol long before he knocked out Floyd Patterson to win the world pro heavyweight title.

He is not reluctant to discuss the incident. He feels most of the criticism was unfair.

Not Properly Trained

"I wasn't in the best condition that night," Johansson said. "Our team was not properly trained. By

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The nation's top touring professionals will shoot for a $9,000 top prize for the second straight week when they tackle Warwick Hills' long layout Thursday in the $52,000 Flint Open Golf Tournament.

Bill Casper Jr., who failed to survive the cut in last week's Chicago Open, will be on hand to defend his championship over the man — killing course at nearby Grnad Blanc.

The field of 151 will play the course at about 6,900 yards opening day. Then the layout will be extended to 7,000, then to 7,100 and finally to the full 7,200 for Sunday's final round.

the night of the finals I was tired.

"My coaches told me my only chance to win against Sanders was to keep back and wait for an opening. Then I was to shoot my right. I couldn't go all-out for three rounds. I was to depend on getting an opening for the right."

"But Sanders was a counter-boxer just like I was. He moved in on me, yes. But he would take a step and wait for me to throw a punch. The referee warned us both twice. Then the third time I was disqualified."

DAVENPORT'S HOMER WINS FOR GIANTS

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League's longest winning streak of the season closed seven games in seven days, lasted 12 innings and was all over on one pitch.

Jim Davenport and Willie Mays joined reliever Stan Williams' first two pitches for 13th-inning home runs Monday night, but Davenport's was all San Francisco needed in a 6-4 decision that ended Los Angeles' streak and reclaimed second place from the Dodgers. It was Davenport's second homer of the night.

That was the only game scheduled in the NL and left the Giants two percentage points ahead of the Dodgers. Both are 1 1/2 games behind Milwaukee's league-leading Braves, who return to action at Cincinnati tonight.

Chase Sanford Davenport now has homered twice in one game three times in the majors—each time at the Los Angeles Coliseum, where he hit five of his 12 rookie homers last season. Last night's pair, for a total of five this year, were his first against the Dodgers in '59.

The Dodgers who three times came from behind scored twice in the first, chasing Jack Sanford in his first appearance since a June 11 injury, for a 2-1 lead after Davenport's leadoff homer. Willie Kirkland's 13th home run scored two for a 3-2 Giant lead in the third against starter Roger Craig, but Gil Hodges' 14th home run tied it in the Dodgers' third.

Both scored in the ninth after Craig retired 16 in a row, the Giants counted on a single by Orlando Cepeda and Jackie Brandt's triple. But the Dodgers came back on a single by Gilliam and a double by Charlie Neal that sacrificed Stu Miller, and a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Carl Furillo off winning reliever Mike McCormick. The young left-hander, now 7-7, blanked the Dodgers on four hits the rest of the way, getting Don Demeter on an inning-ending fly with the bases loaded in the 11th.

Upper Adams Pony League

The Bendersville Orioles kept up their fast pace in the Upper Adams Pony League by walling the Idaville Senators 17-0 at Bendersville Monday evening.

Fourteen hits were blasted out by the winners while the Senators secured but two. Crum and Ronnie Black split the pitching for the Orioles with the former fanning nine and the latter two. T. Black and Snyder each fanned four in the fifth.

At York Springs the Giants kept right on the heels of the league-leading Orioles by taking a slugfest 15-10 from the winless New Oxford Dodgers. Charles Gembe and Spence Stambaugh formed the winning battery and the losing battery was Dungan and Topper. Stambaugh homered for the Giants with two on in the first inning and Ron Trostle also rapped a three-run homer for the Giants in the fifth.

Bigville's Red Legs took a tight 2-0 decision over the invading Arendtsville White Sox as Hildebrand, winning hurler, allowed but one hit and fanned 10. The losing moundman, Naylor, gave up only four safeties and whiffed nine.

The Orioles gained a forfeit from the Pirates Monday evening in the Littlestown Little League when the Pirates were unable to field a full team.

It was announced that Wednesday's game between the Phillies and Orioles has been postponed by mutual consent.

No postponed games will be made up on Saturday, July 4, according to an another announcement.

Tom Hamilton Won't Be "Cop"

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Tom Hamilton won't be a policeman in his new job as executive officer of the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities.

That was the field where Victor O. Schmidt ran into trouble as commissioner of the Pacific Coast Conference, an organization that officially passes out of existence today.

Hamilton, 53, resigned Monday as director of athletics at the University of Pittsburgh, a job he had held since 1949, to become head of the newly formed AAUW that numbers four erstwhile PCC members.

He agreed to a five-year contract at a salary believed around $20,000 a year.

"His duties will be to run the affairs of the association, see that we have a good officiating program and generally aid in the promotion of intercollegiate athletics," explained Greg Englehard, athletic director at California.

"He will not have the investigative powers that Schmidt had, but would help in settling any differences of opinion between members. This is probably the main difference in their jobs."

California, UCLA, Southern California and Washington banded together in the AAUW.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe you remember last year when Allentown club of the Eastern League was faltering in last place. Attendance was off. And the curbstone Platons were digging the grave for the Sox.

But Allentown wouldn't say die. The Sox now are in second place. And attendance is up 19,885 over last year.

The Sox Monday night defeated Springfield 6-4 to move to within 2-1/2 games of league-leading Williamsport which lost 5-3 to Reading. Lancaster beat York 12-4 and Lancaster defeated Albany 14-3.

Zeke King's double scored two runs in the eighth inning to break a 4-4 deadlock and give Allentown its victory. Ron Cote (6-4) was the winner in relief with the loss going to Bob Quinn (2-4).

The team in first place as of midnight July 10 will play at its stadium a team of outstanding players from the seven other clubs. Eastern League sports writers will select the all-star club.

Jim Neely sparked the winners with a homerun in the first inning with a mate aboard and later added two singles. Ken Chapman contributed a triple and two singles while Terry Shuyler rapped a double and pair of singles.

Despite being out 9-3, Fairfield edged Cashtown 6-5 at Fairfield.

Littlestown Little League

The Braves continued their climb towards the top by edging the second place Cardinals 9-6, Monday evening in the Fairfield Little League. The win gives the Braves a 3-4 record while the Cardinals sport four wins and three losses.

With the Cardinals leading 6-5 going into the final frame, the Braves tallied four times to take the win. Walks to Paul Dagenhart, Ron Schultz, and Dennis McLaughlin, a pair of misuses which put Mike Rinedollar and Pat Sites on base, and a single to left by Dennis Rebert accounted for the four scores.

Barry Reecher and Steve Rebert tossed the complete game for their respective teams with Rebert receiving the win. Rebert not only hurled the victory but was also the top batter of the evening with three for three for a perfect game. The Cardinals were held to four hits, including a double by Barry Reecher.

Sam Hartley Wins Junior Golf Title

Sam Hartley, 17, 242 S. Howard St., turned the tables on last year's local Jaycee golf champion, Greg Maitland, and captured the Gettysburg trophy in 55-degree heat at the Gettysburg Country Club course Monday.

Hartley, who was graduated last month from Gettysburg High School, shot 35 and 38 for a 73 to lead the field of 17. A year ago he placed second with an 86.

Greg Maitland, 15, last year's titlist, came in second Monday with a 75. He shot a 40 on the first nine but came back strong on the next round with a 35.

Hartley, who is the son of Mrs. Robert Hartley, will represent Gettysburg in the state tourney to select a Junior golf champion July 15 and 16 at the Hershey Country Club. The first four winners there will be presented with trophies and will have the opportunity to participate in the National Jaycee tournament at Portsmouth, Va., August 22-29. Their expenses will be paid by the State Jaycee Tournament committee.

Tied For Third
Third place honors were divided here Monday by Dick Crist, 14, 2 Elm Ave., and Dick Noel, 15, Gettysburg R. 5. Each shot a 46 and a 44 in that order for a 90.

Fourth place went to Mark Eckert, 15, 207 Springs Ave., who had a 48 and a 43 for a 91.

Hartley was presented with a trophy provided by the Pepsi-Cola company, co-sponsors of the Jaycees of the 1959 Junior Golf Tournament play. The presentation shown above was made by Charles Angstadt, Junior Golf Tournament chairman of the Gettysburg Jaycees.

Maitland got a $5 gift certificate and a case of Pepsi-Cola. The third place winners divided their $4 gift certificate and their case of drinks while the fourth place winner received a case of Pepsi.

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.A.E.

Many a fellow who learned to drive by ear ended by landing on it.

Few motorists remember to buy an extra bit of service when having the car adjusted or repaired, but the plan is one of the best routes to cutting the cost of maintenance. Just one extra attention often nips expensive trouble in the making.

It is not too important what the extra bit of service is just so long as it represents more than what you originally bargained for when you took the car to the shop. If you merely have done to the car what it strictly demands you will find yourself always facing trouble. Even a cursory glance at the car will show one or two things that could stand checking. Maybe the generator drive belt has glazed edges and should be replaced. One of the brake wheel cylinders may have developed a minor leak. Wear on a front tire may hint of need for realigning the front wheels. It may seem minor by comparison with the job the mechanic is doing by way of putting the car back into the running again, but never underestimate the importance of a detail.

Why So Erratic?

In complaining about poor steering there's always the tendency to fail to break it down into steering with and without the brakes being applied. Just for now let's consider the situation when the car is in process of coming to a halt.

Among the things that will cause erratic steering during braking are loose wheel bearings, a bent drag line or tie-rod, too little front-end caster and unequal caster. Lack of correct brake adjustment will also cause darting and diving, but in most cases the brake trouble is the result of out-of-round brake drums.

When installing new spark plugs use a torque wrench wherever possible. If tightening by hand make sure the new gasket is squashed. If it isn't squashed by sufficient tightening the gasket will leak. If the lining on the shoes of one brake is worn the chances are that the lining on the other three brakes will also be worn.

While it is all right to spray on a protective coating to guard chrome trim against the damage from the elements or road materials be sure the chrome is clean and free of rust first.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Much of that smoking from the exhaust is due to oil being sucked up around worn valve guides rather than to oil passing worn piston rings. That is why I always consider the guides whenever doing a valve job.

"Currently I am using the new special seals which check loss of oil at this point. They are made of special kind of rubber which can withstand heat and which is not damaged by oil. A set of these are the equivalent of replacing the guides and of course are a lot cheaper. Modern engines are likely to develop guide leakage because of the high vacuum within the cylinders when the driver lifts his foot abruptly from the accelerator pedal at speed."

What's Your Trouble?

Q. When I make several quick stops in succession on a hot day the brakes on my car seem to fade. Once I thought the car was not going to stop. Adjusting brakes has not helped. R. F.

A. This is a warning that the brake fluid is vaporizing when heated. Immediately have the present fluid bled off and new heavy-duty fluid installed.

Q. I have noticed that some of the heavy cars can give good gas mileage under certain conditions. How is this possible? K. McN.

A. Once a heavy vehicle gets rolling its own momentum is an advantage. The trick is to reduce the number of times it has to be brought up to rolling speed from a dead stop or a slow-down.

Q. The engine of my car has developed the habit of not starting easily if the car is parked uphill. I can always smell gas around the car at such times. T. T. W.

A. Gasoline is leaking from the float bowl. Possibly the float binds because of the tilt of the car.

Q. There always is a small puddle of water under the car when standing over night. This suggests a leak under the rear seat. How can there be any water in this area of the car? N. N. S.

A. This is water (from condensation) leaking from one of the car's mufflers. There may be a small hole in the muffler or the water may be escaping from exhaust pipe. It is just as well that the water escapes.

Q. What would cause a grinding noise in the rear of the car when the engine is pulling moderately? Is this an indication of a bad bearing in the rear end? G. W.

A. A bad bearing would be noisy under other driving conditions too. I think you will find that the particular noise indicates that there is too heavy heel contact between the pinion and ring gears.

Q. How much slack is permissible at the steering wheel. G. L.

A. Anything beyond two inches calls for an adjustment and a check-up. Measure at the wheel rim.

Q. There's so much slippage in the automatic transmission of my car I finally could not get the car going at all the other day. We found that the oil level was very low, but oddly enough there was no signs of leakage. Why the slippage, then? C. K. Jr.

A. Better check the transmission's oil cooler. Apparently the oil boiled away.

Q. Over the last year there has been gradual reduction in oil pressure reading observed when the car is on the open road. I thought the oil had thinned down, but a fresh batch makes no difference. J. L. S.

A. Judging from the age of the car I think you will find that the pressure drop is an indication of normal wear on the bearings, pump, etc. The engine is still being properly lubricated.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. Please confine inquiries to one subject and limit letters to 100 words or less.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jorge Barrero, 18, was charged with homicide Monday night in the strangulation of a 5-year-old boy on a Bronx rooftop Friday night. Police said Barrero admitted strangling Juan Ramos.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Fred Barone said Barrero's motive was revenge on the boy's mother, Mrs. Ida Ramos, who had ordered Barrero out of her apartment last May 26.

ALGIERS (AP)—The French army today claimed that 649 Algerian nationalist rebels were killed or captured last week. French fatalities were placed at 32.

TOP QUALITY SERVICING IS DEALER'S AIM

"We do servicing of trucks for fleet owners who keep coming back," George Alston, general manager of Gettysburg Motors, said. He was pointing up the quality of service work which has built the firm's reputation.

Six full-fledged mechanics, all top experts, can handle any service job, Alston said.

Gettysburg Motors is a franchised dealer for Plymouth, Chrysler and Imperial cars and International trucks. Dealing in Chrysler products, the firm's service department makes a specialty of servicing any Chrysler-made car. A large stock of Mo-Par parts, Chrysler's own line, is carried in stock to assure the auto owner of prompt service.

This is important, too, for the purchaser of a new car, Alston points out. Another thing the new car buyer should consider is the factory guarantee, he added. This is something only a dealer like Gettysburg Motors can back up, he said.

Bank Financing

New car buyers are interested in the means of financing. "We finance through a local bank," Alston said, emphasizing, "at bank rates! You can pay either at the bank or here."

In addition to new and used cars and servicing, Gettysburg Motors has a service station department, managed by Norman Rudisill. Here the motorist is assured prompt and courteous attention. A full line of Sinclair products is carried.

Ken Benner, service manager in charge of the shop. His six mechanics are aided by two helpers. The firm has, in addition to facilities for mechanical repairs, a complete body shop and equipment to balance wheels right on the car.

The well-stocked parts department is managed by Woodrow Koontz.

Carbolic acid is made from coal tar.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

If you could sit down with the engineers and designers who are responsible for the 1960 cars that will be making their appearance soon what would you like to have them include?

The boys gathered at the neighborhood filling station recently had a lot of ideas on this subject. They ranged from "Make 'em run on air or tap water, so we can cut the cost of operation," to "Cut away the corners of the windshield so we won't crack our chins every time we get into the front seat."

Here are a few of the suggestions from the boys, which the designers might consider while making new cars wider, longer, lower and more gleaming than ever before:

A plastic interior finish, to make it easier to scrub off the residue of candy, cookies and for a Sunday afternoon drive.

Snap - on replaceable trim strips, for motorists whose wives find it impossible to miss the edge of the garage doors on the way in and out.

A removable hatch in the car roof above the driver's seat, so a tall man can sit upright behind the wheel of today's new cars.

A device attached to the front fender that would automatically feed nickels into a parking meter at appropriate intervals.

Built-in restraining harness for acrobatic small children relegated to the back seat.

A compartmentalized shelf or basket to hold the maps, tour-guides, sunglasses, cigarettes, cameras, thermos bottles, flashlight and the hundred and one other miscellaneous items that accumulate on the front seat during ing a long trip.

Built-in reflective strips or panels to make the car more visible under headlights and keep other drivers from piling into it when it is parked at night without lights.

Squeak, Rattle Detector
A dial on the dash that automatically answers the question "How long before we get to the next town?" as often as it is asked by youngsters in the car.

A squeak and rattle detector to locate automatically the annoying noise that always disappears when you enter the repair shop to have it corrected.

A radar warning device that would signal whenever one of the hard-to-see small cars draws near any direction.

Curtains for side windows that automatically snap into place as you pass a carnival or kiddie park.

Hypochondria Suggested As New, Enjoyable Hobby

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you looking for a new and enjoyable hobby? Why not take up hypochondria?

"The desire to take medicine is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals," wrote one of the greatest modern physicians, Sir William Osler.

Dr. Osler said another memorable thing: "No man is really happy or safe without a hobby, and it makes precious little difference what the outside interest may be. Anything will do so long as he straddles a hobby and rides it hard."

Most Natural
Hypochondria, the morbid preoccupation with one's own health, is perhaps the most sensible of all hobbies after the age of 40—because it is the most natural. After 40 if you don't worry about yourself, nobody will.

There is little point in taking up hypochondria in youth. During that period of life all one generally suffers from is the more uninteresting complaints—such as sprained ankles, broken limbs, busted hearts.

The golden age of suffering comes later.

New World Opens
It is only after 40 that a new world of disease opens to one. It is then that one first becomes aware he is vulnerable to a wilderness of fascinating ailments ranging from abrogation—loss of ability to estimate weight—to zos-

Disobedient Boy Needs Rescuing

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Firemen rescued a 10-year-old boy who clung to roots of a tree on a steep hillside above a 30-foot high retaining wall Monday.

Crying and frightened but apparently unhurt, Paul Kovac was lowered by ladder to Troy Hill Road on the city's North Side.

"My three buddies and I stopped to look at some old caves on the top of the hill," Paul sobbed. "I tripped on something, then kept rolling down the hill till I hit the tree. Then I hung on that until they came."

Paul's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Reddaway, said, "He was supposed to be inside all day. He'll stick around the house from now on."

Blame Youth In Crash Death
WELLSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—The driver of a Pennsylvania car has been charged with negligent homicide in the death of Ronald Hopkins, 17, of Sewickley, Pa., a passenger in the open convertible which rammed utility pole near here Sunday.

The Brooke County Sheriff's office said Fred C. Richardson, 25, of Leesdale, Pa., was released on $1,000 bond pending a hearing before Magistrate George Mahan of Wellsburg.

Deputy James Hayes said the convertible, containing five young men from Allegheny County, Pa., was sliced in half when it hit the pole on W. Va. 2 about four miles north of here. All five were thrown out by the impact.

Two Hospitalized
Two were hospitalized. Harry S. McCullough, 25, also of Sewickley, was listed in critical condition today with a skull injury. James Miley, 16, of Leesdale, suffered a fractured leg. He was in fair condition.

tionary and discover some heartening new symptoms of something fearful.

Fits Any Pulse
Hypochondria isn't merely for the rich. It is a hobby that fits any pulse. On his days off the hypochondriac can always hang around pharmacies getting free smells of drugs he can't yet afford to buy.

Your true hypochondriac is as avid in search of an unusual malady as a philatelist is in pursuit of a rare stamp. There is the story of one veteran hypochondriac who, on learning his own physician had been stricken with an undiagnosed ailment, phoned the sick medic reproachfully.

"I hear you come down with something I've never had, Doc. You been holding out on me?"

AIRMAN HELD IN TOKYO FOR ARMS THEFT

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese police are holding U.S. Airman 3C Lawrence T. Davison for investigation in connection with firearms stolen from Yokota Air Base June 20, the U. S. Air Force announced today.

Davison, 19, of Williamsport, Pa., was wanted in connection with the theft of seven .45 automatics and two submachine guns stolen from the supply squadron at Yokota Air Base northwest of Tokyo, the Air Force said.

Last Tuesday the Air Force said Japanese police arrested an American civilian, Joseph Thompson, allegedly involved in disposition of the stolen firearms. Japanese police said Davison is believed to have taken the stolen firearms to Thompson's house in Tokyo.

Arms Are Recovered
The Air Force said the stolen firearms were recovered several days after they were first reported missing. Davison is being detained by the Japanese police pending further investigation.

The Air Force gave this account of his arrest Monday.

Davison and a Japanese girl, Hiroko Kanaya, were riding a motorcycle when it skidded on the wet pavement throwing them both to the ground.

Unhurt, he took the girl, who was suffering from minor abrasions, to a hospital for treatment. He was recognized by Japanese police investigating the accident and seized.

"Davison assaulted one of the policemen," the Air Force added, "but inflicted no injuries in an unsuccessful attempt to escape."

AIRPORTS WILL GET U. S. FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday signed a compromise two-year extension of federal aid for airport development, providing for more spending than he recommended.

The measure had been cut down by Congress to 126 million dollars in the face of a veto threat raised during the debate. The extension is for 63 million dollars a year. Democrats had fought for a costlier and longer program and some of them complained they had to accept the smaller outlay "with a loaded veto pen at our heads."

The House originally voted for a four-year 297-million-dollar extension.

Richardson and Joseph Scimio, 19, also of Sewickley, received only minor injuries.

Hayes said the hearing date had not been set because the two hospitalized passengers could not be questioned.

Richardson was quoted that the car pulled to the right when he braked and that it struck the pole as he tried to straighten out.

News Briefs

CAIRO (AP)—Egyptian authorities have approved final plans proposed by Soviet experts for the Aswan Dam on the Nile, Egyptian newspapers said Monday.

Changes proposed by the Soviets will reduce the cost of the first stage of the project nearly 17 million dollars, it was said. Approval of the plans could mean construction might start next winter.

The Soviet Union has agreed to lend 400 million rubles—100 million dollars at the official rate of exchange—for the first stage of the power and irrigation project.

BERLIN (AP)—West Germany pushed ahead today with plans for a presidential election in isolated Berlin despite Soviet warnings such a move will be viewed as a provocative act.

Officials remained alert as Communist East German officials said they would look on the election 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain with "great seriousness." But there was no expectation of any real trouble when the Electoral College meets Wednesday.

The U. S. State Department brushed aside Soviet notes to the Western Big Three protesting the holding of the election in West Berlin. Officials in Washington termed the notes a new effort to meddle in Germany's internal affairs.

SAYS STATE TO HELP PRESERVE OLD BRIDGES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Theodore Burr Covered Bridge Society says it has received the cooperation of Park H. Martin, state highways secretary, in its drive to preserve the historic covered bridges.

Mrs. Vera H. Wagner, Harrisburg, president of the society, said Martin has promised, when possible, to preserve the bridges as a matter of historic interest.

She also said the society is asking for the cooperation of commissioners in counties where covered wooden bridges are on the county highways system.

The society, which was formed here last month, said Martin reported his department is planning to repair and improve the old Knox Covered Bridge at Valley Forge which was damaged by a fire June 9, 1958.

The Chester County Bridge, built in 1865, presently is posted with a weight limit of three tons.

Mrs. Wagner said the department and the Senate a four-year 465-million-dollar bill. Eisenhower had proposed a four-year, 200-million-dollar extension.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okl.), author of the original Senate airport bill and also of the stopgap measure, noted that the present law expires June 30. He said the two-year extension would take the program into the administration of the new president elected next year.

The bill contains language barring the use of federal funds for terminal facilities, bars, commercial shops, cocktail lounges and similar additions unless the program administrator holds they are essential.

Republicans Cool To New Tax Stand By Governor; No Sign Of Stalemate Break

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans today greeted Gov. Lawrence's newest tax stand—accept his recommendations or offer an alternative—with a coolness portending no immediate break in the current fiscal stalemate.

"I can't conceive the governor, as responsible a man as he is, failing to try and find some other solution," said Sen. James S. Berger, Senate Republican floor leader.

He said it was up to the Democratic-controlled House to come up with a tax program acceptable to the Republican-controlled Senate.

Personal Plea
Lawrence made a personal plea to a joint session of the Legislature Monday night asking for support of the remaining 207 million dollars in revenue proposals made by his bipartisan Tax Study Committee.

"If it is defeated, there will not be a series of new administration proposals to take its place," he said. "We are not so foolish as to send up a flock of clay pigeons—one after another—to be shot down in political target practice."

In his speech, first televised live at a joint session, Lawrence laid down his ultimatum to the lawmakers.

States His Case
"You can be sure, and the people of Pennsylvania can be sure, that I will not hesitate to use—at the proper time and in the proper manner—the full constitutional and moral powers that are open to me."

"I will not, for example, approve any appropriations bills, except those necessary for our day-to-day operations, until the revenue measures are before me in sum total."

"I will not accept estimates of revenue which are not honest and prudent forecasts of the actual income which the state will receive."

"I will not violate my constitutional obligation to deny approval to a fiscal program which is fictitiously in balance but actually carries a built-in deficit."

Asks Tax Vote
"And if I have to cut appropriations to bring them into scale with revenues, I will do so."

Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, coincidentally called for a House vote during the day on the 77 million dollars in taxes asked by Lawrence.

They would impose a statewide levy of six mills on intangible personal property such as stocks and bonds, increase the bank shares tax by four mills and extend the gross receipts tax to gas utilities. Previously defeated, the measures were now given about an even chance of passing in view of Lawrence's speech.

To Raise County Salaries
Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said the House minority would caucus prior to the tax vote to see if their would be any change in the previous no-votes-for-taxes position. Other legislative developments: County salaries — The Senate passed, 43-7, a series of bills to increase the salaries of county officials in third through eighth class counties. The measure went to the House.

The pay boosts range from $1,200 to $2,000 a year for heads of row offices such as sheriffs, coroners, prothonotaries, clerks of courts, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, treasurers, controllers, district attorneys and judges.

Septic Tank Control
Fire extinguishers — The House approved and sent to the Senate a proposed ban on the use in the schools and schools buses of fire extinguishers containing carbon tetrachloride.

Septic tank—Installation and the use of septic tanks by suburban homes and business places would come under state regulation for the first time under a measure passed by the House, 113-78.

Taxes—The only portion of Gov. Lawrence's tax recommendations accepted by the Legislature was one increasing the 3 per cent sales tax to 3½ per cent and broadening its base.

Gop's Stand
Its yield, now estimated at 139 millions in the next two years, plus revisions in the budget still

HIGHLIGHTS OF TAX SPEECH BY LAWRENCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Here are the highlights of Gov. Lawrence's tax speech to a joint session of the Legislature Monday.

We do not yet have an adequate tax program enacted into law, although the state's fiscal biennium ended a month ago with a deficit of $141,598,685. With each day that passes we are creating a new deficit to add to the old one. I know of no one who maintains that the current revenue structure of the Commonwealth will support the appropriations which this Legislature will eventually adopt.

We do not yet have a budget agreed upon and adopted, although the new biennium which that budget must finally serve is now four weeks old. The whole machinery of state government is marking time. By necessity, we are a caretaker's government until we have a budget. We are unable to plan, we are restricted in our ability to act for the welfare of the people whom we serve.

It is not alone the general operations of the state which are immobilized. The highway program is impeded because its administrators do not yet know the funds which will be granted them, nor whether they will be granted the advantages of the new highway code which is before you. Throughout the Commonwealth, state-aided schools districts, local governments, universities, hospitals, and institutions are in doubt as to our intentions toward them. The State Industrial Development Authority is unable to act. Our redevelopment assistance funds are exhausted.

A whole range of important legislation—as various as the use of radar for highway safety to the grading of eggs as a Pennsylvania farm product—some bills with fiscal implications, some that won't cost a cent—is moving all too slowly through the legislative process.

We have not yet had definitive action to provide for a method of absentee voting, for statewide control of air pollution, for the proper regulation of billboards, for a statutory civil service system in the selection and protection of technical and professional personnel, for fair housing practices, for a community college program, for a modern highway code, for improvements in highway safety, for state aid to public libraries, and for many other good and desirable measures of progress in our state.

It is therefore time for some soul-searching; time for each of us to examine his responsibilities in our affairs; time to come to leave 207 millions in new revenue required to balance a proposed budget of $1,870,000,000 in the next two years.

Senate Republicans, plugging for 40 to 60 millions in reduced revenue needs, claim that only 118 millions in additional taxes must still be enacted.

grips with our problems and force them to decision, whatever that decision is to be.

It seems plain that our stumbling block is the tax program. It has jammed the flow of the legislative stream. And sometime, somehow, we must break the jam. I ask that we do it soon, rather than after weary, useless, irresponsible weeks and months of wasted time which can help no one except the lobbyists.

I would hope that we can find Democratic votes to pass through the House an adequate revenue program. I would hope that if we fail in this, as we will if only three Democratic members defect to the opposition, then I would vote that enough Republicans will vote with us to pass the bills.

I would hope that the Senate will agree to the revenue measures that come to it, as they have done in the past.

Today, I would once more like to give you a status report—a current estimate—of our fiscal situation.

We were all pleased to find that the deficit from the 1957-58 biennium was $36,000,000 less than the estimate we made in the budget submission of March 2. The improvement in business and employment brought us increased revenues. But it was a formidable deficit just the same—$141,000,000 which must be paid off from our receipts in the next two years.

Modifications in the tax proposals have already absorbed the $36,000,000 gain that was achieved by the reduction of the deficit. The restoration of the sales tax exemption on restaurant checks of 50 cents or less will deprive the state of $14,000,000 in revenue; the shift

TRUCK DRIVER GIVES TIPS ON SAFE DRIVING

WASHINGTON, D. C. — One of the nation's outstanding truck drivers, who has driven for 26 years without an accident, offered motorists taking to the highway for the holiday weekend six tips on how to stay alive over the Fourth of July.

The trucking industry's driver of the year, Carl C. Crim, 44, of Okmulgee, Okla., suggests these six rules for safe driving:

1. Be in good spirits. Leave your quarrels behind you.
2. Don't drive for more than two hours without a coffee break or a stretch.

of the beer and liquor sales tax from the bar sale to the source will reduce our revenue yield further by $22,000,000.

To balance the budget which is now before you, and to discharge the deficit accumulated in the last biennium, we will need $207,419,000 in additional taxes not yet voted by this Legislature.

The failure to adopt the tax program is costing the state $318,000 every 24 hours—every single solitary day.

If anyone believes that delays and procrastination are helping a taxpayer, he is very wrong indeed. The more delays we have, the heavier load we will finally get. Our revenue loss in a 31-day month like July—a loss that we now seem certain to sustain—is in the neighborhood of 10 million dollars.

3. Stay within all speed limits.
4. Obey all orders of highway patrols. "The police are there for your protection."

Check Tires, Brakes

5. Know your equipment. Check your tires and brakes and be able to judge distances.
6. Be courteous. Give the right of way to others.

Mr. Crim was named Driver of the Year by the American Trucking Associations, Inc., for his combination of safe driving and a record of life saving both on and off the highway. He had driven 1,500,000 miles as a tank truck operator. Several times last year he stopped his truck to rescue accident victims.

At least half of all highway crashes are due to emotionally upset drivers, Crim believes. "It doesn't matter whether you drive a truck or a car," he said. "Leave your problems behind you once you put your foot on the gas."

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has opened a door which may get so crowded with intruders that another Supreme Court decision will be needed to clarify what the court did Monday.

It said in a 5-4 ruling — that policy-making government officials are absolutely immune to libel suits against them for something they said or did in what they considered line of duty.

But Chief Justice Earl Warren, one of the four who disagreed with the majority opinion, raised the specter of these officials defaming their critics under the protection of absolute immunity to libel suits.

Warren's Warning

"It will sanctify the powerful and silence debate," Warren said. Under the majority opinion could a policy-making official, angered by newspaper criticism of him, deliberately and dishonestly, under the guise of official concern for his agency, defame the newspaper with impunity?

It's not clear. The opinion doesn't seem very clear to Warren. He said the court, by its reasoning, has set up an uncertain standard which is not a guide at all for these policy-making officials to follow.

Not Clear Or Final

He suggested the court will have to give new appraisals—because he does not think this opinion is clear enough to be final—on almost every charge of defamation by a government official.

Monday's opinion involved two government employees who were suspended and denounced in a press release in 1953 by the director of rent stabilization for the way they handled cash annual leave settlements for some agency employees.

Justice John M. Harlan, writing the majority opinion, said the problem was one of balance: the protection of an individual citizen from oppressive or malicious damage by a government official against the protection of the public interest by shielding government officials from the "harassment and inevitable hazards of vindictive or ill-founded damage suits."

Goes Too Far

Harlan wrote: "In this instance it has been thought in the end better to leave unredressed the wrongs done by dishonest officers than to subject those who try to do their duty to the constant dread of retaliation."

Justice William J. Brennan couldn't accept this reasoning. In his dissenting opinion he said absolute immunity for officials below Cabinet rank goes too far. That kind of immunity makes them libel free even though they defamed someone maliciously and untruthfully.

Brennan would grant policy-making officials—below Cabinet rank—no more than qualified libel-immunity. That is, they would be protected in their "honest mistakes" against a libel suit but not when it could be shown they had committed dishonest and malicious defamation.

Have Some Immunity

In one way or another high-ranking members of the three branches of the government—legislative, judicial, and executive—already have absolute immunity to libel suits under certain circumstances.

But this is the first time it has been extended so far down in the line of command.

The Constitution itself gives members of Congress absolute immunity against a libel suit for anything they say in Congress. This does not mean they are libel-free if they defame someone, say, on TV or radio.

Other Special Cases

But the Supreme Court itself has never ruled on just how much immunity members of Congress have for what they say or do outside the Capitol and their congressional office buildings.

About 65 years ago the court gave absolute immunity to libel action to members of the President's Cabinet—department heads appointed by him—for matters committed by law to their control or supervision.

And the Supreme Court has ruled that judges of courts of superior or general authority are absolutely immune to civil suits for damages because of actions by the judges while acting officially, no matter what their motives.

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—The water shortage here abated somewhat today, but this city of 19,000 remained in a state of emergency. Officials said the long dry spell or perhaps a major break in the water system has caused the city's two reservoirs to go dry. Water began seeping back into the reservoirs late Monday, providing residents enough for their immediate needs.

STRIP TEASER DEFENDS ART BEFORE CLUB

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP)—Strip-teaser Libby Jones, with an angelic look in her green eyes, defended her art before the Lions.

Under the watchful eyes of wives who came as surprise guests, members of the Royal Oak Lions Club were captivated by the speaker at their weekly luncheon meeting Monday.

The statuesque 5-foot-8 burlesque queen looked coolest of all in a clinging white dress that accentuated a 36-26-36 figure.

The temperature was near 90 and the Lions had stripped off their coats.

Libby scored all her points without stripping to music as she does nightly at a nearby Detroit bar. She said she had been making a psychological and historical study of the strip-tease "because it is important to me in my career to know why this profession exists."

Audience Was Impressed

Her audience of dignified business and professional men and matronly housewives looked most impressed when Libby confided that she earned from $750 to $1,250 a week.

Libby agreed she would be contributing more to society if she had become a schoolteacher. But she argued there was a popular demand for her art.

"Up to date it has never been suggested to me that a man could do my job better than I," she said.

Club President Sam Molarino awarded Libby a certificate of appreciation.

"Bless you," said Libby. "It will go in my scrap book."

SEGREGATION MAY SPLIT NEA

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The issue of segregation in public schools once more is threatening to split the nation's largest educational organization along geographical and racial lines.

White delegates from the South want the National Education Assn. to adopt the same mildly worded resolution that was accepted after a bitter fight in Cleveland last year. Negro delegates, with the support of some Northern whites, want a strongly worded statement condemning racial segregation.

Advocates of a strong stand lost a skirmish Monday, but indicated they plan to keep fighting. The showdown will come at Friday's general session.

UNCLE SAM'S DEFICIT IS BIGGEST EVER

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam today winds up his 1959 fiscal year with the biggest peacetime budget deficit on record. The exact amount of red ink won't be known for several weeks.

President Eisenhower forecast a deficit of $12,900,000,000 in his January budget message to Congress. Budget Director Maurice H. Stans told a Senate committee last week the figure may be several hundred million dollars lower.

A smaller deficit would mean that tax revenues have exceeded the 68 billion dollars predicted in January. There is little chance that spending will be shaved much, if any, below the budget message figure of $80,900,000,000.

4th In Six Years

In any event, the deficit will be more than twice as big as any previously recorded in peacetime. The old peacetime high was $4,425,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 10, 1936, when government spending was increased to offset the depression. The alltime high deficit was about 57½ billion in fiscal 1943, in the early days of World War II.

For President Eisenhower, fiscal 1959 brings the fourth deficit in six years.

The 1960 fiscal year, which begins at midnight, will almost surely produce a brighter picture. There might even be a sizable surplus if the new economic boom follows the course now foreseen by government economists.

Narrow Margin

Eisenhower asked Congress to authorize fiscal 1960 spending of $77,030,000,000. He predicted revenues of $77,100,000,000 and a precarious budget surplus of 70 million dollars, contingent on higher gasoline tax and postal rates which Congress isn't likely to put into effect.

The administration now concedes that spending will exceed the January forecast. However, revenues are expected to be higher too.

Central America includes Guatemala, British Honduras, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama.

FACES DEATH IN S. C. COURT

BEAUFORT, S. C. (AP)—A 19-year-old white Marine, convicted of raping a Negro woman, 47, goes into court today to receive the death sentence.

The sentence was made mandatory when the jury of white men that convicted Pvt. Fred Davis Monday did not recommend mercy.

Davis was charged with raping the woman last April 7.

If Davis is electrocuted, it would be the first recorded execution of a white man in the United States for raping a Negro woman.

Indicted Employer Faces New Charge

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Robert L. Dougherty, former president of the Knox Coal Co., and now head of the Peeley Mining Co., has been charged with violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The complaint was filed Monday in U. S. District Court by U. S. Atty. Daniel H. Jenkins. Jenkins charged that Dougherty willfully withheld some $2,800 in overtime from miners employed by Peeley from November, 1956, to April, 1958.

Dougherty is under indictment for alleged payoffs to United Mine Workers' officials in return for labor peace at Knox. Knox operated the Port Griffith mine where 12 men lost their lives last Jan. 22 when the Susquehanna River broke through the walls.

RUSSIAN GIRLS SHOW ENVY FOR U. S. FASHIONS

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If you were a working girl in the Soviet Union, you would pay more for a dress than for a month's rent.

The clothes you wear wouldn't pass muster at an American rummage sale, and your cosmetics would be primitive, but expensive.

These are bits of incidental information gleaned from the Soviet Exhibition of Science, Technology and Culture at New York's Coliseum.

Fashions Unimpressive
It seems everybody is curious about the Soviet, and so the six-week exhibition is likely to be a boxoffice success, with New Yorkers elbowing out-of-towners for a look at the Sputniks, the housing and the clothes proudly displayed by the Reds.

A live fashion show is a feature of the exhibition. Judging from samples displayed in advance, neither Paris nor New York need worry for some time about competition from either Soviet fashions or Soviet models.

There is an attempt at high fashion in some instances, such as a moss-green ribbed wool jersey two-piece dress and matching stole, with gold threads interwoven in the blouse. Other fashions tend to the strictly utilitarian, with heavy, stiff fabrics and bulky construction.

Ill-Concealed Envy
Feminine personnel at the various exhibits are somewhat defensive about both fashions and home furnishings. They point out that frivolous things may be expensive and hard to get in the Soviet Union but that the emphasis is on serious things such as science, culture and Sputnik — all pro-

300 SPECIALS BEING PLANNED FOR TV SEASON

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — That isn't all summer thunder you're hearing. Some of it is the television drumbeaters pounding up a storm announced in capital letters. The most friendly of the Soviet women at the exhibition are professional gals, hard-working and serious, who are proud of their achievements and anxious to compare notes with American career women.

They speak often of the "new era" and the "march of culture," but they eye sleek American hairdos, smooth American makeup and smart American clothes with ill-concealed envy.

about next season's big gimmick, the "special."

There are more than 300 in the planning stage. This works out to better than one a night after the season is launched in September. The hoker, however, is that "special" is a word without specific definition in TV's lexicon.

Once, a few seasons back, it meant a high-budget, star-studded, hour-long one-shot program which took over viewing time regularly occupied by another show.

Competition For Names
Now, "special" can mean almost anything. NBC, whose word it originally was, claims to have 200 specials on the fire, including one regularly scheduled every Friday night, another every Sunday night, plus 12 Telephone Hours, 6 Hallmark shows, 8 Star Parades and 6 Bob Hope shows.

Television's preoccupation with "specials," however, has resulted in keen competition in signing up important names. Every producer carries lists of talent in his head—A lists, B lists,

C lists and D lists, all based on the drawing power of the name. Most A list performers get $20,000 or more per performance. The B list stars rate about half as much.

Ding Dong School Again
Seems like there'll be a lot of European backgrounds in TV next season. Victor Borge is filming a show in Denmark; Art Linkletter and Ed Sullivan will make shows in Moscow and other points.

Miss Frances and Ding Dong School will be back on the air—some places—this fall via videotape, having been acquired by 66 stations to date.

45 HURT IN STRIKE
NAPLES, Italy (AP)—About 65 persons were injured Monday night as thousands of striking Italian seamen battled police until they were dispersed with tear gas. WILL EXTEND "WAR" RATES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Eisenhower's signature was needed today to extend for another year present wartime rates on corporation income and excise taxes.

The three billion dollars of annual revenue which the bill would preserve are needed if Eisenhower is to keep alive his hopes for a balanced budget in the year ahead.

The measure must become law by midnight. If it does, the come tax levy drops from 52 to 47 per cent and income-producing excises also will fall.

The excise taxes apply to autos, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer. Congress sent the bill to the White House Monday — the sixth straight year it has voted an extension of the Korean wartime rates at the President's request.

Saw Some Things He Liked: Took 'Em

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Police stopped Hector Galvin, 20, to inquire why he was walking down Main street in the middle of the night carrying a large paper sack.

The sack turned out to contain 100 rings, 25 watches, bracelets and other items of jewelry. Detective Ray Williamson said. Galvin explained he "saw some things he wanted" in the window of a jewelry store, so he kicked in the door glass and took them.

Who is Society?

And How to "Get In"

What is the most exclusive club in the United States? What does it take — besides money — to be invited to join? "Society in America" by Laura Riley will tell you, including:

How a Pekingese (barred from the American Kennel Club) was listed in the Social Register.

How one couple, without wealth or important friends, became members of SOCIETY.

"I had my face lifted"

Edith Meiser tells what it was like (she looks 15 years younger), what other actresses told her about it, and the differences it has made in her life.

What do men want most in a wife? Dr. Clifford Adams tells what both single and married men say in "Making Marriage Work."
